Transact – A simple online solution for employers

We know you have a business to run, so we make it quick and easy for you to manage your employees' super contributions with Transact, our secure and easy to use SuperStream compliant solution.

How you can benefit from Transact

Transact can provide the following benefits to your business:

- Meet your SuperStream obligations.
- All your super administration in one place.
- Save money by using our clearing house.
- Reduced paperwork and errors.
- Easy reporting for all your employees.
- Transact is available 24 hours a day, every day of the year.

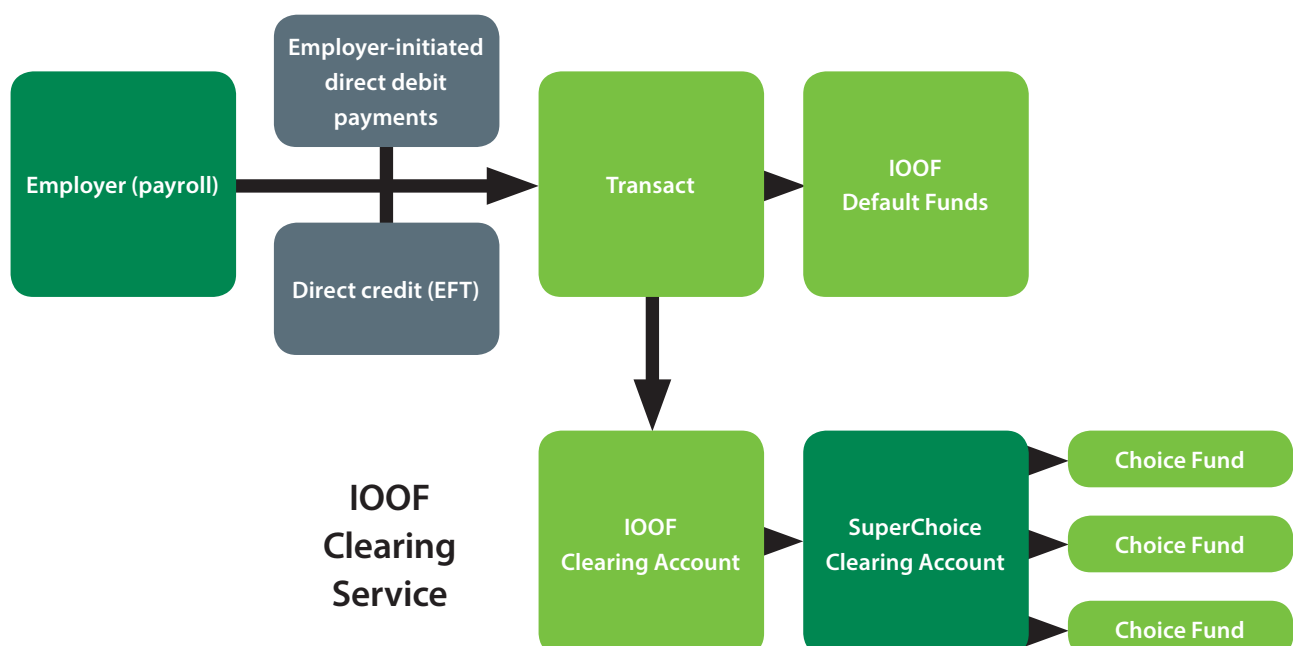

Transact can save you time and simplify your administration by enabling you to:

- transfer super contributions to all your employees' super funds in a single transaction
- add new employees
- amend employee details
- remove employees that no longer work for you.

Transact is SuperStream ready

SuperStream data standards have been introduced by the Government to improve the efficiency of the superannuation system. Transact is a fully compliant SuperStream solution – we will take care of sending your information in SuperStream format to the super funds that your employees contribute to.

How Transact works

In safe hands

Transact is a secure site that can only be accessed using a user ID and password, provided when you register.

The security of your employee data is imperative to us. To maintain security:

- your password will automatically expire and needs to be changed by you every 180 days
- we will only provide your user ID and password to an authorised officer on the request of an authorised officer
- added security through 128-bit encryption and encoding.

Fees

Transact is currently free of charge as long as your default employer fund is IOOF Employer Super where at least 50 per cent of your contributions are invested. Please refer to Transact's Product Disclosure Statement for more information.

Transact does the leg work

We understand that time is not always easy to find, so our dedicated team can introduce Transact to you over the phone helping to minimise your work and maximise your understanding.

We can also provide customised information and training to suit your company's needs.

The advantages really stack up. To ensure you're supported we have a dedicated team on hand to provide you with additional training as well as phone and online support.
